Third hearing set for Glade project

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has scheduled a third public hearing for the Northern Integrated Supply Project, a water-storage project that would include Glade Reservoir northwest of LaPorte.

The additional hearing date is June 16, 6 p.m., at the Hilton Fort Collins. An open house will precede the hearing from 4 to 6 p.m.

The Army Corps, permitting agency for the project, released a draft environmental impact statement for NISP on April 30.

Other hearings have been scheduled for June 17 at the Fort Collins Senior Center, with the same schedule as the Hilton; and for June 19 in Greeley.

There will be no formal presentation about NISP or the draft EIS at the hearings. The public will be invited to submit either oral or written comments, with oral comments limited to five minutes per person.
